README for cspForth-sn-04-090926.tar.gz

This is the fourth development snapshot of cspForth. Since cspForth-sn03 some more bugs have been found and fixed and some more words have been changed or substituted to meet the ANS Standard.

All source code modules and help files shipped with cspForth have been moved to the module directory <cspForth directory>/share . The module directory <cspForth directory>/user is now empty and you should use it for your own private modules.

cspForth now supports to write and execute interactive tutorials as Forth source code files. You can see a first example by entering take GtkWindow tutorial <enter> on the cspForth command line. A tutorial how to write a tutorial will be available with the next snapshot.

If you are new to cspForth please also read the enclosed READMEs of the earlier snapshots.

Feedback is welcome.
